

I should only spend time on tasks:

1. I excel at
2. I enjoy
3. Adds revenue

Continually use every resource to buy back your time. Then fill that extra time with activities that you enjoy and make you money.

The buy back loop

Audit: what tasks do I hate doing that are easy and inexpensive to offer to someone else?

Transfer: who do I have on my team — or who can I hire, even part-time — to take over?

Fill: What tasks should I focus on that I love doing that can immediately bring more money to the company?

money

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up

energy

lights you up